11.3	What percentage of the members of the Boards of Studies, or such other academic committees, are external? Enclose the guidelines for BOS or such other Committees.	Each program of the university constitutes a "Board of Studies "(BOS) with members from the institution as well as from Outside (both from industry & academia) to continuously review and to develop / modify appropriate curricula & syllabi. Minimum two external experts are nominated as members of the Board of studies in each program.
11.4	Are there other strategies to review academic programmes besides the academic council? If yes, give details about what, when and how often are such reviews made?	 The curriculum is developed based on the following: Input from students is taken in the form of formal feedback in each semester. The feedback is also taken during the meeting with nominated class representatives. Feedback/ suggestion are sought from alumni group meetings and alumni forum. The feedback from the recruiters are also sought and the same are taken into consideration while developing the curriculum. The experts from industry are also members in board of studies of respective institutions. Regular industry interface gives the idea of new demands & requirements from the industry. Each institution is continuously in touch with concerned industry & corporate professionals in respective areas and meetings are also held to keep abreast of emerging trends to be able to assess the future requirements. Each Institution constitutes a "Board of studies " (BOS) chaired by the Head of institution and with members from the institutions as well as from outside (both from industry and academia) in accordance with regulation of the university to continuously review and to develop /modify appropriate curricula & syllabi.

- nearby area, staff retention is a big problem.
- It is very difficult to get senior and experienced teachers for the position of Professor and Associate professor.
- Admission scenario in Technical/Architecture courses is a big challenge due to the popularity of Management and IT courses.
- High competition due to many private universities and affiliated colleges with state universities which effect badly on the number of admission.
- South Gujarat region is rich in business culture. Young generation is so keen on entrepreneurship or family business. Therefore inclination toward higher education is less. It creates a poor scenario for admission in PG courses.
- Due to rapid growth in business, students drop out ratio is high. It is also responsible for less participation in extra curricular activities and sports activities.
